AI Summary

New Cingular Wireless Services, Inc., operating as AT&T Mobility, is a corporate entity registered in the System for Award Management (SAM) since 2002, with its headquarters located in Atlanta, Georgia. As a for-profit organization and a subsidiary of AT&T Inc., the company specializes in telecommunications services and equipment. Registered until August 2026, New Cingular Wireless Services, Inc. has established itself as a key provider of telecommunications solutions to federal government agencies, with a particular focus on specialized technology and communication infrastructure.

The company has consistently secured federal contract awards from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF), primarily for providing Telecommunications Intercept and Pen Register Equipment to support electronic surveillance operations. These annual purchase order contracts, ranging from $420,000 to $800,000, have been awarded consistently from 2021 to 2026, demonstrating a stable and recurring procurement relationship with the ATF. Each contract is structured as a firm fixed-price purchase order for TIII and pen registers supporting all field divisions, with no specific small business or disadvantaged business set-aside designations. The contracts highlight the company's specialized capability in delivering advanced telecommunications technology for law enforcement electronic surveillance purposes, leveraging its expertise in communication infrastructure and technical equipment procurement.
